Oh hell no I know exactly what this drone crap will be used for and it won't be for criminals. This will eventually be to turn on all of us hard working citizens! People need to wake up to this kind of crap!

Drones are used to find lost people, people running and hiding from the police and public safety in large crowds. I would rather have a drone fly over my yard looking for someone than putting an officer in danger by entering the unknown. I'm all for it.

What exactly do you plan to use them for? And will they be used by every officer or only ones who go through and get certified properly through the FAA? Fire department could use them but what would the cops need to use them for?

Anthony Murphy missing people, crime scene photographs, water rescues, general searches etc etc. I agree with the FAA.

Asking people for feedback and no definition on where, why and how you'll use it. Try again.

People look up! There are cameras everywhere watching you now. Every intersection, buildings, freeways, etc. If your not doing anything illegal, what's to worry about?

Is authorization of a judge required? Or can they be flown at any time by any officer? Will records of these flights and their purposes be public?

Kate Venkman even if it is needed by a judge to use its not like its all that hard to get a judge to sign anything these days.

Exactly. And how many cases have we heard of some cop creeping on an ex, or some woman he barely knows, using department resources?

Tom Dahlstrom hey it'll just be another half cent sales tax increase just like the half cent increase to pay for the community center that they've had 25 years to save for.
